Grant Writing

Over my many years in business I have secured funding for a number of businesses, charities and nonprofit organizations. Since arriving in the US in 2001 I have successfully turned these skills to grant writing. My greatest success was to secure funding of $58k for the Dos Palos Police Department in 2007.

Marketing

With over forty years experience in the telecommunications and high tech industries and working worldwide I have developed considerable knowledge and skill in positioning product and services to meet changing markets needs.

Use of Technology

The internet offers a low cost means of communications and I have considerable knowledge in this area. The need to maintain and develop the presence of the YLP website should be a priority in order to keep members up to date and to provide a constructive source of information for prospective members.
